Vincent PEREZ

I am an developer, motivated by tech news, innovation and maintainability.
My goals are to create powerful software for customers, easy to maintain and to evolve for developers.
I'm very motived to learn and improve my skills. I'm looking for full time position.

Personal Projects

EveMiningFleet.ovh: maintainer since July 2018
I developed this site because I needed a tool to manage payments on eve online in order to gather more than ten players efficiently.
- I learned C#, because I have some knowledge of VB.NET, to create low complexity software.
- I use ASP.net framework and the MVC pattern to organize my code
- I decide to use an relational database MySQL.
- I use ORM entity framework as an interface to the database.
- I consumed eve online REST API to get all the data I need.
- I'm process to improve my monolith website into services,
  - one a cronjob for all background calculations
  - one REST API backend
  - one frontend.
